We Are the Temple of the Living God

In Scripture, there are both indicatives and imperatives. An indicative is a statement of a fact, while an imperative is a call to action. Herman Ridderbos writes, “Every imperative of Scripture (what we are to do for God) rests on the indicative (who we are in our relationship with God), and the order is not reversible.” In 2 Corinthians 6:14-7:1, there are three pairs of indicatives and imperatives.

- Imperative: “Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers” (v. 14). Indicative: “For we are the temple of the living God” (v. 16).
- Indicative: “God said, ‘I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people’” (v. 16). Imperative: “Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them” (v. 17).
- Indicative: “Since we have these promises, beloved” (7:1). Imperative: “Let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit” (7:1).

This Sunday, Pastor Jonathan will be answering two questions: (1) What does it mean to be “the temple of the living God”; (2) Since we are “the temple of the living God,” how should we live? You are encouraged to prepare for this time in God’s word by reading 2 Corinthians 6:14-7:1.
