

June 12, 2022

This Sunday we're starting a new series called Live Generously.

In 2 Corinthians 8-9, the apostle Paul encourages the church at Corinth to give generously to help the believers in Jerusalem.

You can read more about this collection of money in Romans 15:25-32 and 1 Corinthians 16:1-4.

Though 2 Corinthians 8-9 are about giving money, Paul never uses the word "money" once in these two chapters. Instead, he uses words like "ministry," "gift," "service," and "act of grace." Scott Hafemann writes, "For Paul, the simple but profound act of giving away one's money carries a multitude of meanings."

As we go through 2 Corinthians 8-9, we won't be thinking just about money. We'll also be considering how we can be generous with all of our God-given resources, such as our time and our talents.

As we go through this series about giving, let's not forget that our God is the greatest giver. "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son" (John 3:16). He "did not spare his own Son but gave him up for us all" (Rom. 8:32).

Before the service, you're encouraged to read 2 Corinthians 8:1-15. In this passage, you should find a few reasons for living generously. So as you read, ask yourself the question, "Why should I live generously?"

Sunday Worship

There is one body and one Spirit—just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call—one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.
